THIS WAS THE FIRST of Provo's train depots, built by Utah Southern in 1873. The photo was taken in the 1900s. The Utah

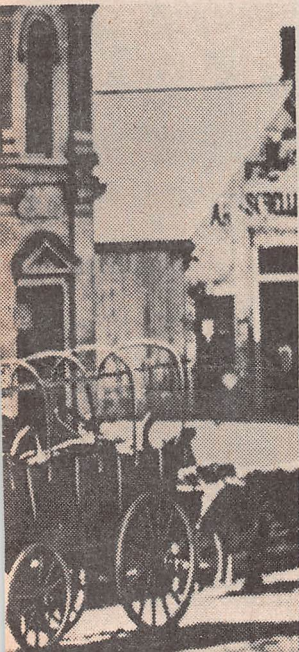

Southern eventually became part of the Union Pacific.

REMEMBER THE RAILROAD water tower? Now seemingly a relic, it was once a fixture on rail lines. This one, located in Provo Canyon, was dismantled in 1959 by Rio Grande.

Two days later, on Jan. 6, the first state officers were inaugurated with Heber M. Wells assuming control as Utah's first governor.
